

In Nigeria particularly, Continued at foot of next column begun to use all in a systematic process of decolonization.
 Unfortunately could not be followed up by archaeological research until 10 logical methods would be virtually impossible. Finds continue to increase in the following January of an equally knowledge of Nigeria's own contribution to the history of mankind.

Attaining its independence today, Nigeria is four times larger than the whole of the United Kingdom, and bigger than any European country. Today, its population stands at nearly thirty seven million. In twenty years, from 1939 to 1959, Nigeria's trade has multiplied almost fifteen times and exceeds £250 million per year — proof that Nigeria is indeed a country of increasing prosperity and enterprise — so much so that BEWAC exports to Nigeria were increased by over 50% last year.
